EDUCATION
SOLUTIONS

Knowledge is key to the success of any organization. For educational institutions, it begins with your campus. In a place where connecting is critical to effective learning, the role of facilities is to engage: faculty with students, students with information and people with the tools they need to get work done. By understanding ever evolving needs of educational institutions you can prepare your campus to address the needs of today while adapting to the changing needs of tomorrow.

EVOLVING PLANNING TRENDS

VIEWS OF A CHANGING CAMPUS

The landscape of today's campus is changing. Footprints are shrinking, technology is shifting, space is transforming to meet growing expectations, and the desire for collaboration is in full demand. To accommodate this changing landscape, it's time to rethink traditional solutions.

Faculty Offices

It's important that every space invites interaction. An organized, comfortable place to sit and talk enriches the student and faculty experience.

Student Workspaces

Students need space to think, room to collaborate, and technology to support their way of work. It's about balancing privacy and supporting collaboration.

Active Learning Environments

As education moves from passive instruction to active engagement, the environment must also break free of conventional design. Furniture must adapt to foster the social nature of learning.

Classrooms

Engaged teaching styles, improved technology, and changes in curricula have redefined how students learn. Classrooms serve more than one purpose. It's essential they have the flexibility to handle multiple styles of learning.

Research suggests that more than half the students selecting an institution, view its environment as key decision making factor.

Faculty are even more convinced that environment is one of the single most influential factors in learning. For every place learning happens.

HNI India has ideas, thought-starters, and layout considerations to help design a space that works best for you.
